Laconic Paris Official Report Indicates Teuton Success in France to be Very Brief

IMPENETRABLE SCREEN BETWEEN FIGHT AND WORLD

British Information Bureau Has Closed Down on All News From the Front and Despatches Issued at Paris Give No Idea of Terrible Conflict Raging Somewhere North of Paris—Statement that French Troops Had to Yield Not Considered Important.

London, Oct. 6.—Never since the start has the battle of the Aisne, which has now become virtually a siege of the German positions on the Oise and north of this river, shown such a dearth of news as on this twenty-fifth day of the struggle.

The British information bureau never very different, apparently closed down on current events from the front several days ago and it probably will not continue until Sir John French, the commander of the British expeditionary forces, puts his army in motion again.

The reticence of the Paris official communication last night was even more marked than customary. It furnished no inkling of what had happened after the Germans had driven the French to yield ground at certain points on the all important western front.

It is argued here that these intermittent variations are inevitable and not necessarily important in such a hard fought combat, throughout which given positions are taken and retaken and taken again many times.

That the allies, for the moment, possess greater mobility than their foes seems to be indicated by the news that they have been able to raid the German lines of communication, cut a railroad and destroyed a train belonging to the artillery of the German imperial guard. This is a hint borrowed from the Russians, whose flanking methods appear to have contributed greatly to the reported German undoing in the eastern war area.

As the enormous wastage in human resources, it is claimed for the allies that their possibilities for such movements will increase while those of their opponents decrease. German cavalry units on bicycles already are a common sight and the Russian advance works in Germany off from the front, including districts of Hungary must, it is maintained, further increase the shortage in resources.

DIVISION POLICE COURT FINES TO BE SUBMITTED TO COUNCIL IN EVENING

The following schedule, setting the division of fines and expenses in connection with the police court, has been tentatively agreed upon by the city commissioners, police officials and the city attorney, and will be laid before the council at its meeting in the evening.

1. That the magistrate's stenographer and clerk of the court be appointed by the chief constable and paid by the corporation.
2. That the clerk of the police court, or the chief constable be appointed a justice of the peace for the purpose of signing warrants.
3. That all fines, costs, bail and other money be paid to the clerk of the police court, who is paid and appointed by the corporation and that the city be responsible for the proper use of this money. All books of the cashier's department are to be paid for by the city auditor once every two weeks.
4. That 25 to 30 per cent of all fines and costs and returned bail money be paid to the province of Alberta under the provisions of the criminal code, or any other act of parliament of Canada, or any order in council issued under section 1027 of the criminal code and all of the fines, etc., under the laws, should go to the city and all other fines which are payable in the city's budget. Under the most favorable act, where the city has to conduct the prosecution, one-half the fine is payable to the city.

REWARD FOR FINDING ALDRIDGE

The Royal Trust company is offering a reward of $250 for the recovery of the body of H. Aldridge, of the firm of Hatcher and Aldridge, who disappeared mysteriously some time ago and whose money he had in the custody of the company. There have been no signs since that time. It is thought that he has been drowned, some evidence having been found up which would lead to that conclusion.

DUCKHUNTERS DISCOVER PATHETIC MESSAGE OF ILL-FATED LAKE BOAT

Fort William, Oct. 6.—(November 9, 1913, Steamer Leafhopper.)

"No hope, farewell to all. In God we trust."

The above message was found written upon a small piece of discolored paper which was found in a glass flask by two duck hunters on the shore of Lake Superior, half buried in the sand. The steamer Leafhopper belonged to the Algoma Central S. S. Line, and was lost during the great storm of November 9, last. She was carrying a full cargo of steel rails from Sault Ste. Marie to Fort William and it is supposed that her heavy cargo without warning carried her to the bottom a few miles outside of Thunder Bay, at the foot of which Fort William is situated. Her entire crew was lost and no sign as to how she was lost or where has ever been found.

THIS SOLDIER WOULD BE HANDY IN GERMAN WINE CELLAR—UNLESS HE'S TIN

Masking as a member of the 21st regiment, a man named Albert Stacey was taken into custody on Monday night and is at present in the city cells. Stacey arrived in the city on Saturday morning and stated that he was recruiting for the regiment. Some time later the city police received a complaint from two farmers near Leduc that their baggage checks had been stolen from them on the train in which Stacey arrived in the city. Evidence pointed to his being the culprit. It is alleged that Stacey stole the baggage checks from the other passengers and when he arrived in the city presented them and had the baggage taken to a house on Rice street, where it was located by the police. The trunk contained, among other things, valuable deeds, which were found to have been torn.

As yet the police have not discovered how Stacey came into possession of the uniform.

THIRD BASEMAN BOSTON BRIVES BREAKS HIS LEG WHEN SLIDING TO SECOND

New York, Oct. 6.—James C. Smith, third baseman of the Boston National league club, broke his leg above the ankle in sliding to second base in the ninth inning of the first game of a double header, with Brooklyn, when the catcher, who was unable to play in the world's series, Deal, Duguey or Whitted will probably play in Smith's place in the big series.

GERMANS OUTNUMBERED IN ALSACE ARE AFRAID TO ATTACK FRENCHMEN

London, Oct. 6.—Telegraphing from Helfort, France, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The Germans are trying to make the world believe that they still hold Alsace, but as a matter of fact the French are in the thousands and so well established that the enemy has not dared to attack them.

"There is nothing in front of the French forces of occupation. If they wish they can walk right through to the Rhine."

ITALIANS AND RUSSIANS IN CANADA ARE ANXIOUS ENLIST NEXT CONTINGENT

Halifax, Oct. 6.—A large number of Russian and Italian soldiers to be five or six hundred, are anxious to go to the front with the next Canadian contingent. It is thought that they have been given some evidence, having been found up which would lead to that conclusion.

Russian Offensive Continues; Enemy Receives Reinforcements

"The Russian offensive campaign continues. The fortified positions of the enemy on the frontier are under severe artillery fire. The enemy has received reinforcements from the garrison at Konigsberg. There has been particularly desperate fighting in the vicinity of Bakalargewo."

"Railroads in east Prussia are crowded with troop trains, and aerial scouts reported an uninterrupted movement of German troops in a westerly direction. German columns and German troop trains are withdrawing across the frontier."

RUSSIAN DEFEAT NEAR AUGUSTOW CLAIMS BERLIN

Cannons and Over 3,000 Men Stated to be Captured at Suwalki.

Fort Cam Desroumains on Meuse Stricken Taken

Five French Officers Among Prisoners—Many Destroyed in Ruins.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—(By wireless to Sayville)—An order of the day written by General von Hoesch, published officially today, says that the Russian army, on the river Meuse, near St. Mihiel, after a number of hard fights, has been taken by the Germans. Five French officers and more than 200 men were made prisoners. The remainder of the French perished in the ruins of the casemates. (This evidently refers to the report of ten days ago.)

A French official statement recently said that the position had been re-taken.

It is stated that the Russians were completely defeated near Suwalki and Augustow, on the east Prussian frontier, October 1 and 2. The Germans made 2,000 prisoners and captured 18 cannons and many machine guns. The situation, it is announced, is most hopeful everywhere for the German and Austrians.

Engaged Passage to Europe, Did Not Go

Does Not Seem to be in Hurry to Leave America for His Own Country.

New York, Oct. 6.—The whereabouts of A. Rustem Bey, Turkish ambassador to the United States, and his plans for returning to Europe, caused considerable speculation today at the office of the Turkish consul general here. Rustem Bey came to this city last Saturday morning from Washington with the announced intention of taking a boat for Europe, but at noon today no accommodations were reserved for him on any out-going steamer.

Rustem Bey engaged passage on the Santa Ana for Naples yesterday. The Santa Ana was due to sail this afternoon. Later in the afternoon the Turkish ambassador returned to the consular office and cancelled his booking still later in the day Rustem Bey came back for the third time and re-engaged passage. This morning he cancelled his passage again. On his visit to the consular office he was accompanied by A. McAllister Smith, who said that he expected to accompany the Turkish ambassador on the trip.

RUSSIANS INVADING HUNGARY REPULSED

Austrian and German Troops Pursue Enemy Taking Many Prisoners.

London, Oct. 6.—According to a message from Budapest, says the Reuters correspondent at Amsterdam, the battles with the Russians who entered Hungary have not yet been definitely concluded, but the Russians have been repulsed at a point in the northwest of Hungary and at Parukova. German troops participated in the fighting.

Between Poles and Alsace, the Hungarians, says Reuters, again attempted to break through the Allied German and Austrian lines but were forced to retreat. The Austrian and German troops had pursued the Russians and captured many prisoners.

Missing Relatives Wanted.

The Edmonton police have received a number of inquiries from outside points for aid in tracking missing relatives. C. N. O'Neil, Hamilton, wants his wife to return to him. Mrs. J. R. Smith, Detroit, Miss. is looking for her husband and Mrs. Arthur William Macdonald, Vancouver, B. C., wants to have her husband located.

Criminal Fall Anxious.

The supreme criminal court fall anxious to open on Wednesday morning before Justice Wabell. On Tuesday day morning the various defendants appeared in court and elected. The jury cases will be heard first, with the exception of the Cook murder case which has been set for October 20. Following Justice Wabell, Justice Ryan and Justice Lee will sit for the two weeks following October 12.

J. S. Dennis Tells Irrigation Congress at Calgary Some Home Truths.

Farming Makes Homes Not Wealthy People

At End of the War C.P.R. to Extend Their Projects in Home Making.

Calgary, Oct. 6.—"There must be a considerable period of marking time in our urban centers till we can get our land under cultivation," declared J. S. Dennis, in the course of an interesting address on the land colonization policy of the Canadian Pacific railway at the morning's session of the international irrigation congress.

An interesting address was delivered today by F. H. Peters, Canadian irrigation commissioner, on the domestic government laws respecting irrigation in western Canada, which was followed by some discussion.

At this afternoon's session addresses were delivered by Senator Loughheed, J. T. Hinkle, secretary of the Oregon Irrigation congress, and C. C. Thom, soil and irrigation specialist in the state college of Washington.

Between the Somme and the Oise There Have Been Advances and Withdrawals—Some Progress is Made on the Right Bank of the Aisne, North of Soissons—Belgium Forces Defending Antwerp Resist Attacks by Enemy.

BRITISH EMBASSY NOT WORRIED ABOUT THEIR AFRICAN PROTECTORATE

Washington, Oct. 6.—The British embassy here today made public the following statement called to Washington by the colonial office:

"During September there has been considerable activity at Anglo-Germany boundary of the east African protectorate. The normal garrison of east Africa and Uganda protectorates has been strengthened since the outbreak of war by a strong body of Indian troops and also by mounted and unmounted volunteer forces raised locally and no anxiety is felt as to the military situation."

THOUGHT KLUCK'S MEN ARE BEING REINFORCED FROM ARMY AT ANTWERP

Bordeaux, Oct. 6.—News described as "most encouraging" has been received here today from Antwerp. It is said that the German attacks on this place seem to be slackening somewhat in intensity.

The German troops reported in the official announcement this afternoon to be near Lille in the department of Nord, indicate, in the opinion of French observers, that Germany has been forced to draw off forces from Antwerp to relieve the German right wing in France, which is hard pressed by the allies.

It has been announced here that Eight Hon. Winston Churchill, first lord of the Admiralty, is in Antwerp consulting with the Belgian staff.

ANOTHER PRIVATE OF U.S. ARMY IS WOUNDED BY A MEXICAN BULLET

Santa Ana, Oct. 6.—Private Lewis Bradford, of Troop G, 10th U.S. cavalry border patrol, was struck in the chest today by a bullet fired from the trenches occupied by troops of General Hill, defending the town of Santa Ana, Sonora, from the attacks of Governor Maytorena. Bradford was in a trench dug for the protection of the American troops on the border line. His wound is said to be serious.

No Judgment Yet.

Judgment in the supreme court action of Alexander Livingstone to succeed W. J. McNamara, as mayor, and James East, as alderman, has not yet been handed down by Justice Hyndman, before whom the hearing was held.

Old Country Football.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP PARTICIPATES IN THE SHELLING TSING TAU

Pekin, Oct. 6 (7:10 p.m.)—A communication received here from a German source in Tsing Tau, the fourth position in the Kiau Chau territory, sets forth that in a German sortie last Friday night the Germans lost one man killed and three wounded, while 22 Germans are missing. The British battleship, according to this same information, has participated in the bombardment of Tsing Tau.

Russian Army Now Threatening New Seat Hungarian Government

London, Oct. 6.—Speaking of the Russian invasion of Hungary a despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph company says:

"According to Budapest dispatches, the capture of Marmaros, Szeged, capital of Hungarian county of Marmaros, has necessitated the removal of the government of that department to Huszt, 28 miles west north west of Szeged. A second Russian army now occupies the lake city and reinforcements are being hurried up to check the Russian advance."

Marmaros, the county in Hungary which the Russians have invaded through the Carpathian passes, is in the northeast, bordering on Galicia, Bukovina and Transylvania.

RUSSIANS BEATEN BACK NEAR UZSOK IS VIENNA'S CLAIM

Official Statement Says Situation in Poland and Galicia Favorable

London, Oct. 6.—(7:40 p.m.)—An official statement issued today from Vienna says that the situation in Russian Poland and Galicia is favorable, according to a Russian despatch from Austrian capital by way of Amsterdam.

"The combined German and Austrian armies," it is announced, "have forced the enemy from Opotow and Klimontow towards the Vistula river."

If Beaten Germans May Have to Send Troops to Check Russian Invasion

Curtain on Great Battle, it is Expected Will Soon be Lifted, When Good Tidings are Anticipated—Muscovites Close to Warsaw Already Ready for Intended Invasion of Selesia—Whichever Side can Extend Line Furthest Without Weakening Front Will Win, is the Opinion of Experts.

London, Oct. 6.—So far as London is concerned, for the past 12 hours news has been contraband of war. When the embargo is lifted the public expects the tidings of great moment, and there is a distinct tendency to optimism regarding the nature of the revelation.

The French military of war, in explanation of the necessity for the communication being late, states it is useless to be more explicit if the battle in the valleys of the Aisne and the Somme are not finished. The authorities know that the conflict will be tedious and prolonged before a decisive result is obtained.

Even the small relief afforded by the news of great activity in the east, sent out yesterday, has ceased today and the front, enclosure of the campaign has extended to the region where through-out the war news of military operations have been more or less continuous in any other theater of the war.

Victory for one side or the other along the Russian frontier is of supreme importance, and the tremendous battle impending there may mark the climax of the war.

The military experts are beginning to appreciate the fact that the attacks now being made on either flank of the western army are not merely tactical movements which depend for their effectiveness on speed and surprise. Little evidence of either has been shown on the allies' left. If, however, the Russians win a great victory in the east, it will compel the Germans to divert some of their western armies in that direction and the flank movements will become crushing attacks which

GERMANS REALIZING SITUATION SERIOUS

Berlin Paper Says Men Have Been Fighting 37 Days Without Respite.

STRAIN IS UNENDURABLE

Impossible to see French Guns—Bad Weather Causes Much Sickness.

London, Oct. 6.—The correspondent of the Daily News at Copenhagen telegraphs the following: "Vivid accounts of the fighting appear in the German newspapers, and the Germans admit that the situation is desperate. The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, Berlin, describing the fighting in the Vosges region, says: 'The officers and men have been fighting day and night for 37 days, and the Germans are facing a difficult strategic situation in the mountain districts, where they are rendering superhuman services, chiefly in water-filled trenches under almost insupportable conditions. The strain is said to be almost unendurable. The French are fortified in excellent positions in the Vosges, and it is impossible to see their guns. German troops have been able to retire from the fighting line for rest. The army has been reduced to a skeleton, and the troops are suffering from lack of food and shelter. Bad weather is causing much sickness.'"

GERMANS LOOKING FOR AN EXCUSE TO DESTROY BRUSSELS

Houses in Suburbs and Some Hotels Already Have Been Burned.

PROVOCATIVE ACTS ARE GROWING VERY COMMON

London, Oct. 6.—A despatch from a Daily News correspondent published as 'A town in Belgium,' deals with the situation in Brussels. It says: "The news from Brussels is very disquieting. All communication with Nijmegen is impossible. The Belgians have blown up bridges and blocked the line with wrecked trains so as to compel the Germans to retreat through Namur. This renders Brussels unsafe to them."

All the German wounded are said to have been removed to the Belgian capital. The fire department estimates that the various communities have been commandeered on the pretense that they furnish good posts for observation. Houses in the suburbs, the hotel de l'Esperance, and the southern railway station are reported to have been already given to the flames. Provocative acts, apparently deliberate on the part of the soldiers, are said to be growing more and more common, and the populace, already excited by the arrest of Burgomaster Max, is being stung to reprisals."

TORONTO LADY TELLS OF CRUELTY TO KIDS BY GERMAN SOLDIERS

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Gordon MacKenzie, daughter of Alfred O'Hearne, of this city, who lives in France, has written her father the following: "It is too dreadful, the brutality and barbarity of the Germans. In Belgium little children have arrived with their hands cut off. This is no exaggeration, as the doctor here, whom we know, saw it himself."

ALMOST FAINTED IN THE STREET

In Daily Fear Of Death—Until "Fruit-a-lives" Brought Relief.

CHATHAM, Ont., April 3rd, 1913. "Some two years ago, I was a great sufferer from indigestion. One day my wife caught a biliboid of 'Fruit-a-lives' and I said to myself 'If I take a few of these, it will build me up, like that, it is good enough for you.' I bought some. After taking these wonderful tablets only three weeks, I found myself wonderfully improved. In a short time longer, I was able to eat anything. My case was no light one, either. Gas would often form in my stomach and I was in daily fear that it would get around my heart and kill me. 'Fruit-a-lives' is the only remedy for indigestion!"

RUSSIANS INTEND FOLLOWING THEIR ADVANTAGES EAST

Have Hard Task for Germans Are Now Situated in Ideal Defensive Position.

ASCRIBE OFFENSIVE TO PRESENCE OF WILHELM

Hindenburg Misled by Exaggerated Accounts of Victories in France.

London, Oct. 6.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Petrograd, referring to the defeat of the Germans, says there is little doubt that the Russians intend to follow up the advantages gained and continue their advance across the frontier, but that the problem confronting them is very difficult. The Muzur Lake region, whither the bulk of the Russian army has retreated, is a most difficult region, and according to the correspondent is one huge armed camp extremely well adapted for a stubborn defence, both in natural formation and because of its strong fortifications.

The task, however, will be easier than it was in August, he says, as the German forces are greatly shaken by the recent fighting.

The Russian papers ascribe the German offensive in this region to Emperor Wilhelm's personal initiative and point out how his nervous reaction to the difficulties has been reflected in all German operations since the beginning of the war. They call attention to the lack of continuity and the sudden shifting of the center of gravity from one point to another, and say that it has to have too many irons in the fire, and ascribe difficulties with the German forces to the fact that the German emperor misled General Hindenburg with exaggerated accounts of supposed victories in France.

DECISIVE DEFEAT OF ENEMY IN EAST

First Shock of the Great Encounter That Must Take Place in Prussia.

GERMAN LOSS IS HEAVY

London, Oct. 6.—The London Times in its war summary dismisses all the news from France in three words: "No decisive results."

Of Russian attack on Germany's northern frontier it says: "It is now certain that the Russian army under General Rennenkampf has inflicted a very serious defeat upon the Germans under the command of General Hindenburg."

The importance of General Rennenkampf's victory is great. The German under General Hindenburg were flushed with success. They checked the too precipitate Russian advance across Prussia and had raised the investment of Konigsberg and had driven the Russian over the east Prussian frontier.

"Now they have met the Russian counter stroke. The first shock of the great encounter that is impending between the armies of Russia on one side and Germany on the other has been heavily against the Germans."

The main Russian army on the lower Ostula has yet to come into contact with the enemy, but the screen of the German army has already got into touch with the Germans.

BRYAN AND BERNSTORFF DISCUSS GENERAL PEACE TREATY BETWEEN NATIONS

Washington, Oct. 6.—The matter of negotiation of a general peace treaty on the Bryan plan between Germany and the United States was discussed yesterday between Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador and Secretary Bryan. It was said authoritatively that the department of state was of the opinion that the conference had nothing to do with the subject of bringing about peace between the warring countries of Europe, but was devoted entirely to the expressed desire of the secretary of state that Germany should enter into exchanges with this government with a view to arranging a peace convention along the lines of the Bryan proposal, providing a breathing spell for the consideration of international differences and disputes in the future. It was also urged the Austrian ambassador to bring the matter to the attention of his government.

Snow Causes Damage.
Calgary, Oct. 6.—By the falling in of the roofs of two motor garages this morning through the weight of snow, 25 automobiles were smothered in debris and damage to cars and buildings is estimated to be $15,000. No one was injured, though one man who was on one of the roofs had a narrow escape.

EIGHT KILLED, DOZEN WOUNDED IN MEXICAN THREE DAYS' BATTLE

Naco, Oct. 6.—Port shooting by both sides opened at Naco yesterday. The battle in progress here between Governor Mayer's troops and the Carranza forces, commanded by General Hill, still represents his losses up to day light yesterday as six killed and eight wounded.

Mayer's troops have made no progress. Hill's scouts reported yesterday morning that Governor Mayer was disposing his troops in a manner indicating an intention to attack Naco. This would mean that the Carranza forces would be in a position to increase the danger to the line on the American side of the line.

FACT THAT ALLIES HAVE YIELDED SLIGHTLY DOES NOT CRUSH PARIS' HOPES

Despatches Mentioning that Fighting Going on North of the Cise are Considered Significant of German Retreat—Slight Setback Mentioned in Official Report Considered Temporary Falling Back.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Despite the official announcement that the allies had yielded somewhat, confidence today in the ultimate success of the French and English in the great action on the left wing of the battle front in northern France has by no means diminished. Meanwhile without reprieve and with no sign of a truce, the tremendous battle of millions of men is going on, each side trying by every possible means in its power to gain the advantage.

"North of the Cise," has appeared for the first time in a war office statement. It now all the allies fought on the right bank of the Oise river hitherto mentioned either in the region of Boys between the Somme and the Marne. There is much speculation on the phase of the fighting in that vicinity which can have a greatly varied importance.

The military critics among them. Lt. Col. Rosset, of the Petit Parisien, refuse to attach any importance to the setback, or the yielding of territory, declaring them to be the inevitable results which can be offset by a progressive movement. He cites the fact that Napoleon at Marengo had to retreat three times in the face of the Austrians which did not prevent him from finding there one of the most brilliant victories as well as one of the most profitable.

The familiarity of the French with the territory is frequently of considerable advantage to them. The marshes of St. Germain, near the Petit Morin river, are perfectly solid in the dry season and the Germans here had made all preparations.

The British steamer Aground. St. Naire, France, Oct. 5.—The British steamer Spanish Prince from New Orleans, September 6, via Norfolk, 14th, for this port, went aground today in the roads and lies in a critical position.

FROM WHEAT MINING TO MIXED FARMING

For the past two or three years the question has been hurred at the farmer from every editorial column in the country: "Why do you continue mining your land for wheat; why don't you go in for mixed farming?"

The practical answer is that the farmer has not the capital to stock his farm, build the buildings necessary to house the stock and to wait the three or four years until the return is possible from the investment; and the banking system does not provide the arrangements under which he may borrow the money for the necessary time and upon the requisite terms to undertake the enterprise. At the same time the farmer can buy on credit all the machinery he requires for grain growing, and the note he gives for machinery goes straight to the machine company's bank to become collateral upon which the machine company may borrow more money to continue making machinery, the final liquidation of the machinery note being, more often than otherwise, delayed until a date sufficiently remote to have permitted the maturing of an equal investment in stock-raising.

Herein is an anomaly and a weakness in the system of Canadian agricultural credits. When it is taken into consideration that the collateral behind a loan made for the purpose of stocking a farm would be increasing in value each month by the growth of the stock, whereas the collateral behind a machine note decreases by the depreciation of the machinery from the first day, the extent of the anomaly is evident.

The primary reason, of course, why banks prefer to lend to machinery companies in bulk against the collateral of farmers' notes rather than finance stock investments upon the individual credit of farmers is that by the system now in vogue the collection is up to the machine companies. Germany, the country with which we are now at war, escaped this feature by a system of co-operative banking under which the money was lent not to the individual farmer, but in bulk to a community of farmers, each farmer getting the use of what capital the local committee of farmers felt the individual farmer could safely be entrusted with and all becoming guarantors of the bulk loan.

In the last analysis, the success of the back-to-the-land movement depends upon the ease with which the embryo farmer can get onto land and the extent to which he can stock the land when he does get onto it. All who have had practical experience in the bush-land homesteading which is characteristic of this section, know that it takes years for the homesteader to progress to the place where he can get his land sufficiently cleared to make grain growing a self-supporting business with him. Even on the unbroken prairie he does not accomplish the cultivation of his land all at once. At the same time there is lying about him everywhere unfertilized pasture and plenty of hay for winter feed. A system by which he could get the use of the necessary capital to stock his farm with a little band of cattle would make him self-supporting from the very first day and place him in a very few years in a position of independence, to say nothing of the enormous increase in the aggregate wealth of the country. The presence of the band of cattle would in no way necessitate any delay in his cultivation operations.

This is the thing which will have to be worked out in western Canada if this country is to avail itself of the opportunity presently presenting itself. If the financial institutions which have been enfranchised as the custodians of the people's savings cannot evolve the system, then it becomes the duty of the dominion to work it out through the application of a national issue of greenbacks, quite probably with the provincial authorities as the handling mediums and guarantors of the funds.

THE NICKLE KEY TO NAVAL SUPREMACY

German shipyards, so the dispatches say, are busier than ever before with the construction of more craft for the German navy, and Winston Churchill meets the news with a statement to the effect that the British will continue construction of warships upon an unprecedented scale, maintaining at all costs the superiority of the British navy.

In this connection it is interesting to note that Canada has all along held the key to a situation which makes her the dictator of whether warships shall or shall not be built.

At Sudbury there is, outside of the French possession of New Caledonia, the only nickle supply in the world worthy of consideration. Without nickle the modern battleship is impossible. Had Canada, at Sudbury, and France, in New Caledonia, commandeered the nickle supply ten years ago and made the construction of ships for foreign navies illegal, these two powers would today have the only navies in the world. As it has been, Canada has exported her nickle raw, making its use open to all nations, and New Caledonia sold to whomever would buy. Even worse, British ship yards built ships for foreign nations against whom she is now fighting, ships from the same dockyards being matched against each other in the Adriatic at this present moment.

Even today, Canada and France, by commandeering their nickle supplies, could positively limit all other countries, Germany included, to what little nickle supply they may have on hand, thereby curtailing naval construction to an extent which would have a very important bearing on the outcome of the struggle.

TO SMASH THE MILITARISM OF THE OGRE OF POTSDAM

It is being estimated that the cost to Britain for one year's war will aggregate one thousand five hundred million. Britain's appropriation for army and navy last year aggregated four hundred and twenty-five million.

So if, by one year's war, Britain could arrive at a peace which made the army and navy appropriation unnecessary, a very few years of peace would recoup her for the cost of the war.

Right down in the bottom, this is what this war is for—to smash this insane militarism which has been thrust on the world by the ogre of Potsdam. If that can be accomplished the human race has some chance to progress.

FRENCH VINEYARDS ARE NOT DAMAGED

London, Oct. 6.—Telegraphing from Tignes, France, the correspondent of the Times says: "The ebbing of the German invasion has left the vine yards virtually undamaged. The labor question in connection with the harvesting of the grapes has been solved by the presence of numerous refugees from the north who are only too glad to earn the good wages offered by the vineyard owners. 'In ordinary times the grapes are soon as harvested as the grapes are made.' During the present year, however, this has been impossible owing to lack of transportation facilities. The grapes therefore are being pressed by the growers themselves, and the juice will be preserved in barrels until it is ready to be sent to the wine makers. The weather has been favorable and it is predicted that the wine this year will be of excellent quality."

"THE BAIL JUMPER"

BY ROBT. J. C. STEAD

A suspicion that one has caught a distant echo of Ralph Connor, a feeling that one has failed to achieve a desired intimacy with the dramatic personage, are the only impressions that the average reader receives after reading the novel, "The Bail Jumper," published by T. Fisher Unwin, London.

However, in the limited field of western Canada fiction the novel is worthy of taking a place, if not because of strong character drawing or powerful descriptive matter, because it is an interesting story of life in a country settlement somewhere, anywhere, in the west.

It is unfortunate—one feels disappointed—that the author has not placed the scene of the plot action more definitely. One knows it is in western Canada merely because some of the characters refer to the United States as "Across the line." Anyone who has lived in western Canada will, of course, recognize conditions which exist in no place else.

The plot action is slow to start. It takes the author over 40 perfectly good pages of type to tell that the hero, Ray Burton, a western boy, has arrived in Plainsville in the close of the year 1914, owned by a man named Gardiner, to introduce the hero to the heroine, Miss Myrtle Vane, and to convey the impression that Gardiner is already in love with the heroine.

With the groundwork laid the action proceeds more rapidly. Burton takes Miss Vane out for a Sunday picnic or two and arouses Gardiner's jealousy. On Monday morning the store safe is robbed of $2,000, with circumstances pointing strongly to Burton as the thief. After various struggles with police officers Burton is arrested, but even so is kind to him. He is out on bail. One of the maidens at Burton's rooming house gets suspicious in the case to be remembered by the reader, and later after the package of notes is found in Burton's trunk he decides to jump his bail. He does so with the assistance of a doctor, which assistance was unnecessary, and goes farther west. While sitting on the steps of a land office somewhere in the far west, waiting to file on a homestead, he reads in a paper that his trial is to take place in a few days, and immediately runs to the railway depot, boards a train which meets with trouble, walks 14 miles, and with the assistance of an automobile and various adventures required to delay him the necessary time arrives in the court at Plainsville, just at the moment psychologically essential to make a dramatic homecoming.

He expects to be convicted, and everyone else entertains the same expectations, but the rooming house maid who was introduced early in the book turns out to be a private detective employed by the heroine and by her evidence Burton is proven innocent and Gardiner meets his downfall. The characters are not strongly drawn. One does not become sufficiently acquainted with them to feel sympathetic. The heroine is the personification of intelligence. The reader entertains no sympathy for Burton throughout his troubles, but is filled with an admiration for his conduct. He does not care what becomes of Burton—let him be convicted of theft, disgraced, let the villain marry the heroine, as the plot all is knocked into a cocked hat, it matters not to the reader so long as his admiration is justified by Burton's return to stand trial. In this the author has achieved something unique. In the case of Gardiner the reader is never allowed more than a business acquaintance. The conversation throughout is unnatural.

In spite of these difficulties the book shows considerable strength in several descriptive passages and arouses expectations of something better from the author's pen.

WESTERN CANADA WAS STRONG AT TORONTO'S EXHIBITION THIS YEAR

Western Canada received another great boost at the recent Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, according to R. B. Bruce, director of exhibitions for the Canadian Pacific railway's natural resources department, who says that the exhibition was the most successful that they have ever made an attracted more attention than any other exhibition.

"Thousands," he said, "crowded the building during the whole run of the exhibition to see the display of Pacific goods which this year contained a purely traffic exhibit."

The feature of the C.P.R. booth was "The Land of the Evangelist," which represented an old Arcadian scene. The picture was completed by a model with a spinning loom. Mechanical models occupied the next booth. A scene in the Rockies and a wheat field scene were depicted by models. In front of these was a large model of the Bessie, showing its workings. This attracted much attention.

A large collection of mounted heads, all kinds of western fish and a display of British Columbia fruit filled the next booth. Another booth displayed a forest scene depicting a big camp in the Rockies. A full camping equipment was supplied and everything was done to make it as realistic as possible. In the foreground was a table and the finishing touch was added by a canoe drawn up on the bank.

BIG INCREASE IN CANADIAN EXPORTS FIRST MONTH WAR

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—For the month of August which was the first month of the European war, the total Canadian trade reached an aggregate of $100,137,000, compared with $97,832,000 for the corresponding month of 1913. This is the outstanding feature of the trade statement issued by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of customs. While there has been a falling off in the imports, exports show a healthy condition in the trade of the dominion.

During August last Canada exported $52,000 worth of animals, and their produce, as against $43,700 for August 1913, last, the total exports under this head were $26,068,000, against $17,100,000 for the corresponding five months of the previous year. There is also increase in the value of manufactured articles exported. For August last these amounted to $5,049,000 against $4,511,000 for August, 1913.

For the five months the exports of manufactured articles were $26,728,000 compared with $20,943,000 for the corresponding period of 1913. Coin in bullion imported into Canada during August reached to the total of $11,455,000 against $72,000 for August, 1913. During August, $7,425,000 worth of domestic agricultural products were exported and $10,824,000 worth of foreign agricultural products.

There Are Things in This Free Atlas Not Contained in Any Other Publication

The European war atlas, just off the press, which readers of the Edmonton Daily Capital may secure free, is filled from cover to cover with latest detailed maps, pictures and general information of Europe and the war that you never saw published before.

It's up-to-date, too, all of it. For example, the correct boundaries of the Balkan states at the time of the beginning of the present war are given, both in the big, colored, double-page map of Europe and in a similar map of central Europe. Very few atlases or maps give such up-to-date and reliable information.

The Capital carries the best and latest news. Besides war news it will carry full reports of the doings of the Alberta legislature, which meets in a few days; the dominion parliament, which will also meet this fall; the world's championship baseball games, which start October 9; and all the other late sporting and other news, including the famous Mutt and Jeff series of comic cartoons.

There is only a limited number of European war atlases. Make sure of your atlas and your Capital today.

The subscription price of the Daily Capital, payable in advance, to city subscribers is $2.00 for six months or $4.00 a year delivered at your door; to country subscribers by mail $1.50 for six months or $3.00 per year.

For every six-months subscription received while the supply of atlases lasts we will give one atlas free.

One who is now a subscriber to the Capital may get one of these atlases by forwarding the price for a renewal for six months after the date his present subscription is paid to.

Better still, if a subscriber whose subscription is paid induces a friend to subscribe for six months to the Daily Capital we will forward each an atlas free.

CANADIAN TRAVEL TO CALIFORNIA WILL BE HEAVY

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 6.—The tourist traffic from western Canada to southern California this fall and winter will be extremely heavy. Hotel Clark, Los Angeles, reports reservations are being received daily from this part of Canada. Instead of waiting until January, as is usually the case, this year Canadians are coming to the southland early in the fall and remain until the two expeditions open. Every indication points to the fact that the influx of Canadians to southern California will be the biggest ever known.

W. E. Gray, a prominent citizen of London, Ontario, is now in the southland with his daughter. He says that the traffic to California will be phenomenal this year. F. H. Slater of Victoria is a guest at Hotel Clark and expects to remain in the southland for some time.

Judging from the number of reservations already received, Hotel Clark anticipates a very busy season. Last winter at times there were as high as 120 guests registered there from western Canada. The railroads leading to the southland had laid out equipment as it was needed to facilitate this fall and winter's service.

LEGISLATORS PAY LAST RESPECTS TO OLIN

The funeral of Charles H. Olin, M. P., for Wetaskiwin, took place Tuesday in that city and a large representation from the provincial parliament, is present. Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of public works, and Hon. Wilfrid Gariepy, minister of municipal affairs, were chosen to represent the members of the funeral.

There will also be a large number of the members present. Those going from Edmonton are Peter Gunn, member for Lac Ste. Anne, Luciel Houdebourg, member for St. Albert, Gordon McDonald, member for Vermilion and Hon. P. E. Lessard, member for St. Paul. A number of other members are expected to attend the funeral on their way to Edmonton from the southern part of the province.

Mr. Olin, a native of Sweden, had been in this country about 25 years, and was one of the first settlers in that district. He leaves a widow and three children.

PETROGROD DESPATCH SAYS FIVE MILLION RUSSIANS VOLUNTEER

Roma, Oct. 6.—Communications from Russia, which since the beginning of the war have become most abundant and detailed, describe the Muscovite empire in a fervent that those knowing the Slav spirit think the war, now headed by the czar, will, breaking in such a holy crusade and be like an immense flood which, breaking all dykes, will inundate and exterminate everything.

A despatch from Petrograd says volunteers who have offered to leave for the front number five millions. Half of these are already drilled.

WELSH COAL MAGNATE TO DEVELOP ANTHRACITE DEPOSITS ON G. T. P. LINE

Great anthracite coal deposits have been discovered in the territory through which the Grand Trunk Pacific railway runs in British Columbia. D. A. Thomas, the Welsh coal magnate, is now credited with the intention of making an early start on the mining operations in the Ground Hog district, which is estimated to contain 1,141,400 tons of coal. Plans are made for a short line of railway from the coal fields to Nanaimo, B.C., 50 miles north of Prince Rupert.

The product in the Ground Hog district is said to be the only hard, smokeless, steam anthracite coal in the world, outside of Wales, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The opening of the Panama canal will enable naval and other vessels using hard coal to come through the canal with a small amount of fuel in their bunkers and replenish their supplies at Prince Rupert or other points on the coast from the British Columbia mines.

To Aid Cotton Growers.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Although details of the plan launched in St. Louis yesterday for a $150,000,000 pool to aid the cotton producers had not reached the treasury department today, it was understood that it will meet with the approval of Secretary McAdoo and probably of the federal reserve board. Mr. McAdoo today received a telegram from F. J. Wade, from St. Louis, announcing he would send as soon as possible a statement of the plan in detail.

MORE MONEY PAID EVERY YEAR FOR WORLD SERIES

Compared With Initial Series of 1884 Gate Receipts at Late Counts are Amazingly Large—Impossible to Satisfy Demand for Tickets.

New York, Oct. 6.—No clearer or more positive illustration of the extraordinary interest taken by the public in the annual world's championship series of baseball games can be desired than that furnished by a glance at the financial results, a statement of which is official announced at the end of each post season competition for the coveted title and flag. Through the box office its popularity can easily be measured. Compared with the meagre returns at the initial series in 1884 the enormous crowds registered by the clicking turnstiles show that by leaps and bounds the attendance in recent years has assumed such gigantic proportions that there is no telling what it may amount to in years to come.

The first championship games between the Providence "Grisys" and the Metropolitan may have been only lightly attended, and there is nothing on record to show what the receipts amounted to for the three games then played, as Providence won three straight. The following year, however, when seven games were played in four different cities, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, the financial result was about $2,000,000. The year the fight was a hot one between the Chicago Nationals and the American Association club of St. Louis, the receipts can hardly imagine what would be the yield just now if such a series were possible over a similar circuit.

Of course, in those days seats in the bleachers could be had for "two bits," and the best seats in the grand stand brought the top price of half a dollar. Even at those rates there could not have been much enthusiasm, judging from the results. Today, however, prices have soared so that a single admission costs a dollar, or rather the face value of the little cardboard and the holder of one of these is considered lucky if it has not cost him more than three times that amount.

In the early days of the world series the tickets were easily obtained at the regular prices and no one had to worry as to whether he would get to his favorite seats for one or all of the games. This easy method of satisfying one's baseball appetite disappeared years ago and fabulous prices are offered for ordinary seats in the stands not to speak of the immense prices demanded for the exclusive boxes which entitle the possessor to view the game from a comfortable upholstered chair in one of the boxes, or the fight for tickets begins for weeks before the end of the regular season, requests are sent for reservations, but it is safe to say that fifty per cent of these result in disappointment; long lines form in the vicinity of the playing grounds the night before each battle, and fancy prices are given to the persons who will turn their backs on the field for the result of their long vigil. The big prices that are paid for tickets in that way do not increase the receipts so far as the players or clubs are concerned. The box returns are not influenced by the exorbitant amounts asked, in fact, demanded by the holder of the choice coupons.

THE BEST BET

Bender and James appear to be the best bet for the opening game of the world's series between Boston and Philadelphia, and it will be interesting to see how they compare in action against each other.

In one respect James has the advantage. The Athletics are absolutely ignorant of his capabilities, and while the Braves have not hit against Bender before they know exactly what he can do, as volumes have been written about the veteran pitcher and his work. Bender is undoubtedly a great pitcher, but in a championship series and may keep Boston guessing all the time, but on the start the Braves appear to have a slight advantage in the matter of pitchers.

Averages of Infields of Teams Play For World's Championship

EMPIRE BILLIARD TOURNAMENT REACHES EXCITING STAGE

Sharp and Kay Meet in Championship Game—Three Cornered Tie Possible.

Play in the three cushion billiard tournament at the Empire Billiard hall advanced to the stage where it has become very exciting, owing to the close position of the leaders to each other.

Only two games remain to be played, but in them hinges possession of the title. In one of them Archie Kay will meet George Sharp and if he is successful in winning it means that Kay will be the city champion. If Sharp wins, three of the contestants, Kay, Sharp and Breese will be tied for the first place and other games will be necessary to break the deadlock. Breese and Simpson will meet this evening.

Thursday evening's game between Kay and Sharp is attracting a lot of attention and will be witnessed by a capacity house. Sharp is the favorite but Kay has been improving daily and is expected to put up a great struggle. Seats will be arranged for this game and there will be no admission fee.

Three games were played yesterday with the following results:

Scott, 20; high runs, 3-4; Sharp 27; high runs 4-4.

INFIELDS OF CONTESTANTS ARE VERY EVENLY MATCHED

Comparison of the Philadelphia and Boston Infield Shows that There is Little to Choose in Fitting—Athletics Better Hitters.

New York, Oct. 6.—In the coming season of the world's baseball championship the infields of the Boston Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans are expected to contribute many sensational plays both offensively and defensively, during the struggle for premier diamond honors. In fact, it would prove most extraordinary if the reverse should be the case, since combinations which include players of the type of Johnny Evers, Eddie Collins, "Fisk" Maranville, "Stuffy" McInnis, "Home Run" Baker and Heinie Schmidt, execute thrilling catches, throws and send every man of the permanent schedule.

A comparison of the two infields shows that both the American and National league championship clubs have quartets of players stretched around the base lines that are far above the ordinary run of those of the big league clubs. Regardless of whether the players are veterans or phenomenal youngsters, with but a year or so of major league experience, they are either leaders or close to the top in their particular position. Just how these two infields will play against each other in the series which begins this week is hard to forecast, but an individual comparison of the season's work of each of the eight players most likely to cover the positions from first to third shows that they are quite evenly matched in general skill with glove and bat.

Beginning with first base, the Athletics will be represented by McInnis and the Braves by Schmidt. The National league player is older and heavier physically than McInnis, but the latter has the advantage of longer baseball experience and the 1914 season records prove him to be the stronger with the attack. Schmidt has a fielding average of .992 for 180 games, which puts him in the list of National league first basemen. His batting average for 1914 was .275. McInnis is second among the leaders of the junior league with .594 for 147 games. At bat he has a far better average than Schmidt, his record being .317 for 146 games.

Evers and Collins will be opposed at second base and both are famous to be conjured with. Both are famous and both have had plenty of world's championship experience. The latter point in double plays and infield strategy there is little to choose between them. Both cover wide areas around second base and throw in almost any position. In age and experience Evers is older than Collins having 31 years old with 12 years of league service against Collins, 27 years and seven seasons on the diamond. In fielding the former Chicago Cub star leads the Mackmen by 26 points, the average being, Evers .518 Collins .522. In hitting, however, the positions are reversed since Collins shows .344 to Evers .278. At short stop that is a case of a steady veteran against a youthful phenom.

Barry is 27 while Maranville has just passed his twenty-first birthday. Physically there is little advantage one way or the other, both being about average in weight and height. Barry has had two years more experience in the game, which, perhaps accounts for his better fielding average which is .978 for 113 games to Maranville's .946 for 131 games. The youthful Evers is a more consistent batter, however, showing .251 to Barry's .262. Both fit in to the defensive scheme of their respective infields. In general style, being fast, accurate throwers and capable of ranging over a wide stretch of territory between second and third bases.

The one position in the inner defense where the world's champions appear to have an advantage over the Braves, if figures for the past and present seasons can be depended upon, is at third base. Here J. Franklin Baker and "Red" Smith will hold forth during the coming series. In age, experience, batting and fielding the famous home run hitter has the better in comparison over his rival who will play the far corner last year for Boston. Baker is 18 years old, weighs 177 pounds, and his six years as a professional baseball player. Smith is 24, weighs 191 and has played ball for five years. The 1914 records of the two players in question show that Baker has fielded .917 and batted .310 to Smith's .912 and .285.

MATHEWSON WILL COACH THE BOSTON PITCHERS FOR THE WORLD SERIES

New York, Oct. 6.—When the Boston Braves line up on Friday afternoon in the first of the world's series game with the Athletics, they will carry the good wishes of Manager John J. McGraw, and will have the benefit of his experience with the Mackmen in three series. The Braves will also have the benefit of coaching by Christy Mathewson, who will conduct a class at pitching, at which he is expected to give some invaluable advice to the noted trio—Rudolph, James and Tyler. Matty knows what the Mackmen can and can't hit, as he has faced them on occasions when they could, and couldn't.

Mayer Leads Rosters
Boston, Oct. 5.—Major Curley will lead the Royal Rosters, a band of 200 baseball enthusiasts, when they go to cheer the Braves in the world's series in the next 20 days. They have yet to support a loser.

Flynn Defeated
Kansas City, Oct. 6.—After 10 fast rounds, Jack Dillon, heavyweight of Indianapolis, was awarded the referee's decision over Jim Flynn, of Peabody, Conn. here last night. There was a knockdown. Both finished strong.

PSYCHOLOGY AN IMPORTANT ITEM TO CUE ARTISTS

Jerome D. Travers has told the public some interesting facts about golf in one of the current magazines, specially with reference to the "psychological moment," the effect of environment upon nerves, etc. But golf is not the only game in which these things count, as was shown in a recent game of three cushion billiards. The game was between an old player of experience and a new player of unshakable nerve. A comfortable side bet had been placed on the game, and the player took a handicap which in the judgment of all concerned made the contest equal.

At the "psychological moment" about the fifth inning of the game, a friend of the better player in the "kitchen" coached him, and referred to a difficult shot. The player took the suggestion from three points and took the lead in the game. The older player protested against the unfairness of the coach, who was outside the game. However, the positions are reversed, the rights of outsiders sitting about the viewing the play. The interference was sufficient to unnerve the stronger player, and he was beaten on an even stage. At the end of the game he accused the outsider of unwarrantable interference and declared that he had been beaten by the outsider rather than the real contestants. It was only a case of nerves, from which the stronger player ought to have recovered, but did not, thus losing the game and his money, showing that the human element in billiards is much the same.

Mexicans Still Scraping.
New Mexico, Oct. 6.—Villa forces under Governor Maytrea, continued through the night desolatory firing on the outskirts of General Hill's Naco garrison, but ceased at daybreak. The town's defenders are awaiting the attack which Maytrea informed Colonel Guillove, commanding the United States border guard, would be delivered shortly after daylight. Hill's soldiers reported that the skirmishing yesterday resulted in a loss of 10 killed for Maytrea.

ATHLETICS ARE PREPARING FOR WORLD'S SERIES

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The Athletics regulars began their tuning up for the world's series after a week's rest when they defeated New York yesterday by 2 to 0. All of the regular infielders, outfielders and catchers of the American Mack expect to send in against the Braves next Friday, were in the game with the exception of McInnis. The latter has two sore fingers and he merely took part in the batting practice. The injury is not serious enough to keep him out of the big game. Walsh played first base for Philadelphia in good style. The American league champions showed the effect of their lay off by their weak hitting, but this was offset by excellent fielding and splendid twisting by Bush, Bressler and Shawkey. Each pitched three innings, Bush not permitting a hit and Bressler and Shawkey only one each.

Chile plans to use oil-burning equipment on all government railways.

DOPE AL FAVORS PHILADELPHIA IN WORLD'S SERIES

According to Figures Boston Hasn't a Lookin But Figures Are Uncertain.

The strange behaviour of the Boston Braves has given rise to much natural and verbal speculation, albeit somewhat premature, as to how much of a chance they would stand against Connie Mack's justly celebrated ball team in a world series debate.

On paper, and on past achievements, the Braves do not compare with the Athletics. At times, it seems to be a shame to mention them in the same breath. But the old Joe Yerkes would say, "It's a funny old game."

Placing the proposition on paper in good style. The American league champions showed the effect of their lay off by their weak hitting, but this was offset by excellent fielding and splendid twisting by Bush, Bressler and Shawkey. Each pitched three innings, Bush not permitting a hit and Bressler and Shawkey only one each.

Chile plans to use oil-burning equipment on all government railways.

FROM WHEAT MINING TO MIXED FARMING.

For the past two or three years the question has been hurled at the farmer from every editorial column in the country: "Why do you continue mining your land for wheat; why don't you go in for mixed farming?"

The practical answer is that the farmer has not the capital to stock his farm, build the buildings necessary to house the stock and to await the three or four years until the return is possible from the investment; and the banking system does not provide the arrangements under which he may borrow the money for the necessary time and upon the requisite terms to undertake the enterprise. At the same time the farmer can buy on credit all the machinery he requires for grain growing, and the note he gives for the machinery goes straight to the machine company's bank to become collateral upon which the machine company may borrow more money to continue making machinery, the final liquidation of the machinery note being, more often than otherwise, delayed until a date sufficiently remote to have permitted the maturing of an equal investment in stock-raising.

Herein is an anomaly and a weakness in the system of Canadian agricultural credits. When it is taken into consideration that the collateral behind a loan made for the purpose of stocking a farm would be increasing in value each month by the growth of the stock, whereas the collateral behind a machine note decreases by the depreciation of the machinery from the first day, the extent of the anomaly is evident.

The primary reason, of course, why banks prefer to lend to machinery companies in bulk against the collateral of farmers' notes rather than finance stock investments upon the individual credit of farmers is that by the system now in vogue the collection is up to the machine companies. Germany, the country with which we are now at war, escaped this feature by a system of co-operative banking under which the money was lent not to the individual farmer, but in bulk to a community of farmers, each farmer getting the use of what capital the local committee of farmers felt the individual farmer could safely be entrusted with and all becoming guarantors of the bulk loan.

In the last analysis, the success of the back-to-the-land movement depends upon the ease with which the embryo farmer can get onto land and the extent to which he can stock the land when he does get onto it. All who have had practical experience in the bush-plot homesteading which is characteristic of this section, know that it takes years for the homesteader to progress to the place where he can get his land sufficiently cleared to make grain growing a self-supporting business with him. Even on the unbroken prairie he does not accomplish the cultivation of his land all at once. At the same time there is lying about him everywhere unlimited pasturage and plenty of hay for winter feed. A system by which he could get the use of the necessary capital to stock his farm with a little band of cattle would make him self-supporting from the very first day and place him in a very few years in a position of independence, to say nothing of the enormous increase in the aggregate wealth of the country. The presence of the band of cattle would in no way necessitate any delay in his cultivation operations.

This is the thing which will have to be worked out in western Canada if this country is to avail itself of the opportunity presently presenting itself. If the financial institutions which have been enfranchised as the custodians of the people's savings cannot evolve the system, then it becomes the duty of the dominion to work it out through the application of a national issue of greenbacks, quite probably with the provincial authorities as the handling mediums and guarantors of the funds.

THE NICKLE KEY TO NAVAL SUPREMACY.

German shipyards, so the dispatches say, are busier than ever before with the construction of more craft for the German navy, and Winston Churchill meets the news with a statement to the effect that the British will continue construction of warships upon an unprecedented scale, maintaining at all costs the superiority of the British navy.

In this connection it is interesting to note that Canada has all along held the key to a situation which makes her the dictator of whether warships shall or shall not be built.

At Sudbury there is, outside of the French possession of New Caledonia, the only nickle supply in the world worthy of consideration. Without nickle the modern battleship is impossible. Had Canada, at Sudbury and France, in New Caledonia, commandeered the nickle supply ten years ago and made the construction of ships for foreign navies illegal, these two powers would today have the only navies in the world. As it has been, Canada has exported her nickle raw, making its use open to all nations, and New Caledonia sold to whomever would buy. Even worse, British ship yards built ships for foreign nations against whom she is now fighting, ships from the same dockyards being matched against each other in the Adriatic at this present moment.

Even today, Canada and France, by commandeering their nickle supply, could positively limit all other countries, Germany included, to a little nickle supply they may have on hand, thereby curtailing to a construction to an extent which would have a very important bearing on the outcome of the struggle.

TO SMASH THE MILITARISM OF THE OGRE OF POTSDAM.

It is being estimated that the cost to Britain for one year's war will aggregate one thousand five hundred million. Britain's appropriation for army and navy last year aggregated four hundred and twenty-five million.

So it, by one year's war, Britain could arrive at a peace which made the army and navy appropriation unnecessary, a very few years of peace would recoup her for the cost of the war.

Right down in the bottom, this is what this war is for—to smash this insane militarism which has been thrust on the world by the ogre of Potsdam. If that can be accomplished the human race has some chance to progress.

FRENCH VINEYARDS ARE NOT DAMAGED

London, Oct. 6.—Telegraphing from Tournay, France, the correspondent of the Times says:
 "The ebbing of the German invasion has left the vine yards virtually undamaged. The labor question in connection with the harvesting of the grapes has been solved by the presence of numerous refugees from the north who are only too glad to earn the good wages offered by the vineyard owners. In ordinary times the grapes are soon as harvested are bought by the big champagne makers for their presses. During the present time, however, it has been impossible owing to lack of transportation facilities. The grapes therefore are being preserved in the vineyards themselves, and the juice will be preserved in barrels until its delivery to the wine makers is possible. The weather has been favorable and it is predicted that the wine this year will be of excellent quality."

"THE BAIL JUMPER" BY ROBT. J. C. STEAD

A sensation that one has caught a distant echo of Ralph Connor, a feeling that one has failed to achieve a desired intimacy with a dramatic personage, and a decidedly lively opinion of life in western Canada are the only impressions that the average reader will have after reading Robert J. C. Stead's latest contribution to the literature of the western world, "The Bail Jumper," published by T. Fisher Unwin, London.

However, in the limited field of western Canadian fiction the novel is worthy of taking a place, if not because of strong character drawing or powerful description, merely because it is an interesting story of life in a country settlement somewhere, anywhere, in the west.

It is unfortunate—one feels disappointed—that the author has not placed the scene of the plot action more definitely. One knows it is in western Canada, mostly because some of the characters refer to the United States as "Across the line." Anyone who has lived in western Canada with, of course, recognize conditions which exist no place else.

The plot action is slow to start. It takes the author over 60 perfectly good pages of type to tell that the hero, Ray Burton, a western boy, has arrived in Plainville to clerk in a store owned by a man named Gardiner; to introduce the hero to the heroine, Miss Myrtle Vane, and to convey the impression that Gardiner is already in love with the heroine.

With that groundwork laid the action proceeds more rapidly. Burton takes Miss Vane out for a Sunday picnic of two and a house. Gardiner's jealousy. On Monday morning the store safe is robbed of $2,000, with circumstances pointing strongly to Burton as the thief. After various struggles with police officers Burton is arrested, but everyone is kind to him. He is set out on bail. One of the maidens at Burton's rooming house gets sufficiently mixed in the case to be remembered by the reader, and later, after the package of notes is found in Burton's trunk he decides to jump his bail. He does so with the assistance of a doctor, which assistance was unnecessary, and goes farther west. While sitting on the steps of a land office somewhere in the far west, waiting to file on a homestead, he reads in a paper that his trial is to take place in a few days, and immediately runs to the railway depot, boards a train, and meets with trouble, walks 14 miles, and with the assistance of an automobile and various adventures required to delay him the necessary time arrives in the court at Plainville, just at the moment psychologically essential to make a dramatic homecoming.

He expects to be convicted, and everyone else entertains the same expectation, but the reading house maid who was introduced early in the book turns out to be a private detective employed by the heroine and by her evidence Burton is proven innocent and Gardiner meets his downfall.

The characters are not strongly drawn. One does not become sufficiently acquainted with them to be sympathetic. The heroine is the personification of intelligence. The reader entertains no sympathy for Burton throughout his troubles until he is filled with an admiration for his conduct. He does not care what becomes of Burton—let him be convicted of theft, discovered, let the villain marry the heroine and the plot all be knocked into a cocked hat, it matters not to the reader so long as his admiration is justified by Burton's return to stand trial. In this the author has achieved something unique. In the case of Gardiner the reader is never allowed more than a business acquaintanceship. The conversation throughout is unnatural.

In spite of these difficulties the book shows considerable strength. In several descriptive passages and arouses expectations of something better from the author's pen.

WESTERN CANADA WAS STRONG AT TORONTO'S EXHIBITION THIS YEAR

Western Canada received another great boost at the recent Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, according to E. H. Bruce, director of exhibitions for the Canadian Pacific railway, a natural resource department, who says that their exhibit was the most successful that they have ever made an attractive more attention than that of any other this year.

"Thousands," he said, "crowded the exhibit during the whole run of the exhibition to see the Canadian Pacific booths which this year contained a purely traffic exhibit."

The feature of the C.P.R. booth was "The Land of the Evangelist" booth, which represented an old Canadian scene. The picture was completed by a maid with a spinning wheel. Mechanical models occupied the next booth of the Bassano dam, showing its evolution. This attracted much attention. A large collection of mounted birds, all kinds of western fish and a display of British Columbia fruit filled the next booth. Another booth displayed a forest scene depicting a big camp in the Rockies. A fair camping equipment was supplied and everything was done to make it as realistic as possible. In the foreground was a lake and the finishing touch was added by a canoe drawn up on the bank.

BIG INCREASE IN CANADIAN EXPORTS FIRST MONTH WAR

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—For the month of August which was the first month of the European war, the total Canadian trade reached an aggregate of $100,137,000, compared with $97,832,000 for the corresponding month of 1913. This is the outstanding feature of the trade statement issued by Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of customs. While there has been a falling off in the imports, exports show a healthy condition in the trade of the dominion.

During August last Canada exported $5,750,000 worth of animals, and their produce as against $4,817,000 for August, 1913, last, the total exports under this head were $26,083,000, against $27,196,000 for the corresponding five months of the previous year. There has also been an increase in the value of manufactured articles exported. For August last these amounted to $1,049,000 against $4,511,000 for August, 1913.

Coin in bullion imported into Canada during August reached the total of $1,142,200 against $172,000 for August, 1913. During August, $7,425,000 worth of domestic agricultural products were exported and $10,924,000 worth of foreign agricultural products.

There Are Things in This Free Atlas Not Contained in Any Other Publication

The European war atlas, just off the press, which readers of the Edmonton Daily Capital may secure free, is filled from cover to cover with latest detailed maps, pictures and general information of Europe and the war that you never saw published before.

It's up-to-date, too, all of it. For example, the correct boundaries of the Balkan states at the time of the beginning of the present war are given, both in the big, colored, double-page map of Europe and in a similar map of central Europe. Very few atlases or maps give such up-to-date and reliable information.

The Capital carries the best and latest news. Besides war news it will carry full reports of the doings of the Alberta legislature, which meets in a few days; the dominion parliament, which will also meet this fall; the world's championship baseball games, which start October 9; and all the other late sporting and other news, including the famous Mutt and Jeff series of comic cartoons.

There is only a limited number of European war atlases. Make sure of your atlas and your Capital today.

The subscription price of the Daily Capital, payable in advance, to city subscribers is $2.00 for six months or $4.00 a year delivered at your door; to country subscribers by mail $1.50 for six months or $3.00 per year.

For every six-months subscription received while the supply of atlases last we will give one atlas free.

One who is now a subscriber to the Capital may get one of these atlases by forwarding the price for a renewal for six months after the date his present subscription is paid for.

Better still, if a subscriber whose subscription is paid induces a friend to subscribe for six months to the Daily Capital we will forward each an atlas free.

CANADIAN TRAVEL TO CALIFORNIA WILL BE HEAVY

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 6.—The tourist traffic from western Canada to southern California this fall and winter will be extremely heavy. Hotel Clark, Los Angeles, reports reservations are being received daily from this part of Canada. Instead of waiting until January, as is usually the case, will see a year's Canadian tourists flocking to the southland early in the fall and remain until the two expatriates open. Every indication points to the fact that the influx of Canadians to southern California will be the biggest ever known.

Great anthracite coal deposits have been discovered in the territory through which the Grand Trunk Pacific railway runs in British Columbia. D. A. Thomas, the Welsh coal magnate, is now credited with the intention of making an early start on the mining operations in the Ground Hog district, which is estimated to contain 1,414,499 tons of coal.

The product in the Ground Hog district is said to be the only hard, smokeless, steam anthracite coal in the world, outside of Wales, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The coal is of such quality that it will enable naval and other vessels using hard coal to come through the canal with a small amount of fuel in their bunkers and replenish their supplies at Prince Rupert or Skeena Bay, 50 miles north of the British Columbia mines.

MORE MONEY PAID EVERY YEAR FOR WORLD SERIES

Compared With Initial Series of 1884 Gate Receipts at Late Contests are Amazingly Large—Impossible to Satisfy Demand for Tickets.

New York, Oct. 6.—No clearer or more positive illustration of the extraordinary interest taken by the public in the annual world's championship series of baseball games can be desired than that furnished by a glance at the financial results, a statement of which is officially announced at the end of each post season competition for the coveted title and flag. Through the box office its popularity can easily be measured. Compared with the meagre returns at the initial series in 1884 the enormous crowds registered by the clicking turnstiles show that by leaps and bounds the attendance in recent years has assumed such gigantic proportions that there is no telling what it may amount to in years to come.

The first championship games between the Providence "Grays" and the Metropolitans have been only lightly attended, and there is nothing on record to show what the receipts amounted to for the three games then played, as Providence won three straight.

The following year, however, when seven games were played in four different cities, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, the financial result was about $2,000. That year the fight was not one between the Chicago Nationals and the American Association club of St. Louis, and one can hardly imagine what would be the yield just now if such a series were possible over a similar circuit.

Of course, in the days of the "two hits" and the best seats in the grand stand brought the top price of half a dollar. Even at those rates there could not have been much enthusiasm, judging from the results. Today, however, prices have soared so that a single admission costs a dollar, or rather the face value of the little cardboard, and the holder of one of these is considered lucky if it has not cost him more than three that amount.

In the early days of the world series the tickets were easily obtained at the regular prices and no one had to worry as to whether he would get to his favorite seats for one or all of the games. This easy method of satisfying one's baseball appetite disappeared years ago and the immense prices demanded for the exclusive coupons which entitle the possessor to view the game from a comfortable upholstered chair in one of the boxes, of which there are several rows in the newly built stands.

From the moment that the possessor of the ticket is alone to satisfy a point to see one or more of the contests and the fight for tickets begins. For weeks before the end of the regular season, requests are sent for reservations, but it is safe to say that fifty per cent of these result in disappointment; long lines form in the vicinity of the playing grounds the night before each battle and fancy prices are given to the persons who wait their turn in these lines for the result of their long vigil. The big prices that are paid for tickets in that way do not increase the receipts so far as the players or clubs are concerned. The box returns are not influenced by the exorbitant amounts asked, in fact, demanded by the holder of the choice coupon.

THE BEST BET

Bender and James appear to be the best bet for the opening game of the world's series between Boston and Philadelphia, and it will be interesting to see how they compare in action against each other.

In one respect James has the advantage. The Athletics are absolutely ignorant of his capabilities, and while the Braves have not hit against Bender before they know exactly what he can do, as volumes have been written about the veteran pitcher and his work. Bender is undoubtedly a great pitcher for a championship series and may keep Hoehn guessing all the time, but on the start the Braves appear to have a slight advantage in the matter of pitchers.

EMPIRE BILLIARD TOURNEY REACHES EXCITING STAGE

Sharp and Kay Meet in Championship Game—Three Corners Tie Possible.

Play in the three cushion billiard tournament at the Empire Billiard hall has advanced to the stage where it has become very exciting, owing to the close position of the leaders to one another.

Only two games remain to be played but in them hinges possession of the title. In one of them Archie Kay will meet George Sharp and if he is successful in winning it means that Kay will be the champion. If Sharp wins, three of the competitors, Kay, Sharp and Bessford will be tied for the first place and other games will be necessary to break the deadlock. Bessford and Sampson will meet this evening.

Thursday evening's game between Kay and Sharp is attracting a lot of attention and will be witnessed by a capacity house. Sharp is the favored player but Kay has been improving daily and is expected to put up a great struggle. Seats will be arranged for this game and there will be no admission fee.

Three games were played yesterday with the following results: Kay, 8; high runs 3-4; Bessford 18; high runs 2-4; Sharp 27; high runs 4-4. Bessford 8; high runs 2-2; Scott 8; high runs 2-2. Rio de Janeiro has 25 motion picture theaters.

SPARKLE WATTS WINS FUTURTY AT LEXINGTON

Pop Geers Drives the Two-year-old Winner of $5,000 Stake.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—The victory of Frank G. Jones' Sparkle Watts, driven by the veteran "Pop" Geers in the $5,000 two-year-old trotting feature of the program of the opening day of the Grand Circuit meeting on the grounds of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association yesterday. After losing the first heat to General French, Geers came back in the second and won with a driving finish, repeating in the third, a neck in front of Native Spirit. Summaries:

INFIELDS OF CONTESTANTS ARE VERY EVENLY MATCHED

Comparison of the Philadelphia and Boston Infield Shows that There is Little to Choose in Fielding—Athletics Better Hitters.

New York, Oct. 6.—In the coming series of the world's baseball championship the Philadelphia American and the Boston National are expected to contribute many sensational plays both offensively and defensively, during the struggle for premier diamond honors. In fact, it would prove most extraordinary if the reverse should be the case, since combinations which include players of the type of Johnny Evers, Eddie Collins, "Rabbit" Maranville, "Stuffy" McInnis, "Babe" Ruth and Heinie Schmidt, execute thrilling catches, throws and stops in every game of pennant schedule.

A comparison of the two lineups shows that both the American and National league championship clubs have quartets of players stretched across the base lines that are far above the fielding of those of the big league clubs. Regardless of whether the players are veterans or phenomenal youngsters, with but a year or so of major league experience, they are either leaders or close to the top in their particular position. Just how these two lineups will play against each other in the series which begins this week is hard to forecast, but an individual in the Athletics is expected to be one of the eight players most likely to cover the positions from first to third base. They are expected to be matched in general skill with glove and bat.

Beginning with first base, the Athletics will be represented by McInnis and the Braves by Schmidt. The National league player is older and bigger physically than McInnis, but the latter has the advantage of longer baseball experience and the 1914 season records prove him to be the stronger with the attack. Schmidt has a fielding average of .992 for 126 games, which puts him third in the list of National league first basemen. His batting average for 1914 season is .276. McInnis is second among the infielders of the league with a batting average of .274. At bat he has a far better average than Schmidt, his record being .317 for 146 games.

Evers and Collins will be opposed at second base and here are two names to be conjured with. Both are famous point in double plays and infield strategy there is little to choose between them. Both cover wide areas around second base and throw in almost any position. In age and experience Evers is older than Collins being 31 years old and with 12 years of league service against Collins, 27 years and seven seasons on the diamond. In fielding play-form Chicago Cub star leads the Mackmen by 26 points, the average being .985. Evers .978 Collins .972. In hitting, however, the positions are reversed. Since Collins shows 344 to Evers 279. At short stop it is a case of a steady veteran against a youthful knuckleballer. Both finished strong.

Major Leads Rooters
 Boston, Oct. 5.—Major Curley will lead the Royal Rooters, a band of baseball enthusiasts, when they go to cheer the Braves in the world's series in the past 20 years. They have yet to support a loser.

Flynn Defeated
 Kansas City, Oct. 6.—After 10 fast rounds, Jack Dillon, heavyweight of Indiana, was awarded the referee's decision over Tim Flynn, of Toledo, Col., here last night. There were no knockouts. Both finished strong.

ATHLETICS ARE PREPARING FOR WORLD'S SERIES

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The Athletics regulars began their tuning up for the world's series after a week's rest which they defeated New York yesterday by 2 to 6. All of the regular infielders, outfielders and catchers that Manager Mack expects to send in against the Braves next Friday were in the game with the exception of McInnis. The latter has two sore fingers and is merely kept out in the batting practice. The injury is not serious enough to keep him out of the big game, Walsh played first base for Philadelphia in good style. The American league champions showed the effect of their lay off by their weak hitting, but this was offset by excellent fielding and splendid twirling by Bush, Bressler and Shawkey. Each pitched three innings, Bush not permitting a hit and Bressler and Shawkey only one each.

Chile plans to use all-turning equipment on all government railways.

DOPE AL FAVORS PHILADELPHIA IN WORLD'S SERIES

According to Figures Boston Hasn't a Lookin But Figures Are Uncertain.

The strange behavior of the Boston Braves has given rise to much moral and verbal speculation, albeit some what premature, as to how much of a chance they would stand against Connie Mack's Athletics in the world series.

On paper, and on past achievements, Mack's Athletics are undoubtedly the better team. At times it seems to be a shame to mention them in the same breath with the Boston Braves. The latter has not been so good since they defeated New York yesterday by 2 to 6. All of the regular infielders, outfielders and catchers that Manager Mack expects to send in against the Braves next Friday were in the game with the exception of McInnis. The latter has two sore fingers and is merely kept out in the batting practice.
